Monday, April 25, 2011, by Kat Odell

Here now, the truck. On Saturday Papaya King rolled its new mobile vehicle into Hollywood for a private soft launch and test run. Today, the truck goes public with its first stop in Burbank, 3400 W. Olive at noon, followed by a trek to Glendale. Be there for gratis dogs and tropical drinks. Then, tomorrow, the truck will hit up the westside. Stay tuned for the brick and mortar still to come.
